ICBM 2021: Call of Paper

Abstract *

Online learning is playing a vital role in the process of teaching and learning during Covid-19 pandemic. Many academic institutions have shifted towards E-learning platforms to conduct virtual classes. However, learners' satisfaction is mostly important in effective implementation of E-learning. In this study, we aim to investigate Indian university students' perception and satisfaction regarding online classes. Data was collected from 50 students from different academic institutions through online forms and collected data was analyzed using different software. The results showed that the interaction, collaboration and assessment are the important criteria regarding the matter of students' satisfaction.
